OAHU COLLEGE CLOSES TONIGHT

Twenty-Two Will Receive Degrees In Exercises at Bishop Hall.

Twenty-two pupils of Oahu College will tonight receive their diplomas and the college will mark another successful year to its record for accomplishment.

With senior class day yesterday and the gathering of alumni and students for the festivities of the closing hours, the commencement exercises are all concluded except for the graduating observances. The annual reunion of the alumni association took place yesterday afternoon on Punahoa campus and Alexander Field, with W. A. Greenwell, president of the association, presiding, and Dr. W. C. Merritt, former president of the college, and President John W. Gilmore of the College of Hawaii were the speakers. Capt. Berger's band played and refreshments were served.

Last night the senior class held its farewell exercises on the steps of Paauhi Hall. President Lowthian Williams of the class acted as master of ceremonies and the usual class-day program was gone through. Randolph Hitchcock, president of the junior class, received the historic gavel from the senior president's hands. The ceremonies were as follows:

March out on steps.
Class song, Helen Peterson.
Class history, Laura Atherton.
Class will and testament, Herrick Brown.
Class prophecy, Alice Bond.
Presents, William Onderkirk.
Presenting gavel, L. Williams.
Planting of class tree.
Farewell song, words and music by Bert Gibb.

The program tonight will be held in Charles R. Bishop Hall, beginning at 8 o'clock. Lowthian Williams will deliver the valedictory address and Miss Helen Peterson the salutatory. The address of the occasion will be delivered by Theodore Richards, "By Elimination."

The program is as follows:
Invocation, Rev. W. C. Merritt.
Music, "Silent Now the Drowsy Bird" (Offenbach), Oahu College Glee Club.

Commencement part, "The History of the Violin," Doris Renton Taylor.

Commencement part, "Herosism in the Medical Profession," Cyril Francis Damon.

Piano solo, "Rondo Capriccioso" (Mendelssohn), Marjorie Kulamana Chapin.

Commencement part, "Julie Ann A Sketch," Helen Miranda Peterson.

Music, "Merry Lark, With Thee I'd Wunder" (Gounod), Oahu College Girls' Glee Club.

Address, "By Elimination," Theodore Richards.

Presentation of class gift, William Lowthian Spencer Williams.

Announcement of winners of Damon rhetorical prizes.

Announcement of award of Punahoa Roll of Honor and presentation of trustee's loving cup.

Presentation of diplomas.

Music, "Song of the Triton" (Moloy), Oahu College Glee Club.

Address and benediction, Rev. W. C. Merritt.

Those who will receive diplomas tonight are:
